

I enjoy the music on KLOVE and support the transmission financially.

The alternative to talk radio and crass morning show DJs is refreshing.

Even with the multitude of locations across the contry I still get to hear public service announcements about events in my local area.

The loss of KLOVE would be a loss of a family friendly and encouraging source of entertainment and support for those in need.

The only thing I would change about this public service station is to boost the signal to eliminate the frequent interference by local commercial stations.
